DEMO ASSERTS STATE NEEDS "BETTER RULE"

"Pennsylvania deserves better leadership than it's getting," Auditor General Thomas Z. Minehart told more than 300 Democrats Thursday evening at the annual fund raising dinner held at Bankert's in Littlestown. Minehart accused the Scranton administration of practicing "austerity at the bottom and prosperity at the top," in filling positions in state offices and responsibilities.

Minehart was the principal speaker at the program which included remarks by Mrs. Louise M. John, state vice chairlady of the Democratic party; Mrs. Grace M. Sloan, state treasurer; Mrs. Marie J. Harbaugh, vice chairlady and president of the Women's Democratic Club of Adams County; and Atty. Henry J. Mahady, brother of Judge Paul Mahady, candidate for Superior Court Judge. Fred G. Klunk, county chairman, was in charge of the meeting and introduced the guests.

"WORST HOAX"

Mrs. Sloan declared that in her position as state treasurer she has found that "Scranton's austerity program is the worst hoax ever perpetrated on the people of Pennsylvania," and urged party members to support the Democratic candidates in a step to regaining control of the state government.

Klunk urged members to elect the local state and out "the courthouse rule that has existed for seven terms." He reminded the group that the Democrats lost the "last three terms by less than 100 votes," and remonstrated "let's not lose any of these good candidates this year."

LOCAL CANDIDATES

Local candidates who were present and were introduced were: Wilbur L. Plank, Ronald Hagarman, George Taughn. (Continued On Page 12)

ASK TRANSFER OF LAWSUIT TO U.S. COURT

Hercules Alchor Chemical Co. has moved to transfer the suit brought against it by Seven Stars residents from the Adams County Court to the Middle District U. S. Court.

A notice has been filed in the prothonotary's office here stating that on October 14 Hercules Alchor entered a petition at Harrisburg asking that the equity suit against it be transferred.

The petition claims that the District Court has original jurisdiction because "the controversy exists wholly between citizens of different states" and is for a sum "in excess of $10,000."

Hercules Alchor lists its address as 1500 W. Jackson St., Painesville, Ohio.

Bringing the suit against the corporation, and against John D. Settle and Robert H. Shull who rented the plant at Seven Stars, are Kenneth E. and Norma A. Hess, John L. Cauffman, Luther M. and Emma J. Deaner, Dean (Continued On Page 10)

GHS STUDENTS STAGE PARADE ON THURSDAY

Gettysburg Senior High School students went "all out" Thursday night for their "homecoming pep rally" and produced the best pregame parade in years.

Seven large floats and one tiny one, plus the Senior High School band, majorettes, football team and a host of students comprised the group making the march from the high school to Baltimore St., to Lincoln Square, to York St., to Liberty St., to the high school.

Designed for beauty was the float of homecoming queen, Miss Jane Crone, and her court. White Grecian pillars, white iron lawn chairs and maroon and white decorations were featured. On the float were the queen, and her court, Nancy Bow, Demaree Dearthoff, Deanna Doyle and Betty Reed and their escorts. The queen will be crowned at halftime during tonight's game.

OTHER FEATURES

The first group in the parade had a very small float, a child's wagon bearing a "black panther" and preceded by about 20 high school students garbed in black and forming a human chain to march snake fashion.

Plans moving for changes at cross keys. The Adams County commissioners' office today was working on preparations which will permit the plans to place traffic lights at Cross Keys to move into high gear next Wednesday.

Henry S. Pomroy, state highways engineer, told the commissioners at a meeting with them Wednesday that letters will be needed by the state from the county and the townships involved, Oxford, Berwick and Hamilton. Jacob G. Appier, clerk to the commissioners, was having the letters drawn today for signature by the commissioners and township supervisors at a joint meeting at the courthouse here next Wednesday.

On Wednesday Pomroy is scheduled to be present with the specifications drawn for the lights so the county can ask bids for their installation.

TO REMOVE "ISLANDS" Pomroy promised that the state will remove the "curbs" or "islands," currently at the intersection. Radial curbs will be placed at the corners behind which will be placed the poles to support the overhead traffic lights in the intersection. The commissioners said today that the lights will be "fully activated" by the type of mechanism to be secured with the lights. The mechanism will direct the operation of the lights in accordance with the amount of traffic on Routes 94 and 30.

The county will pay for the installation of the lights while the three townships will pay for their maintenance. In the main. (Continued On Page 10)

Queen Elizabeth Appoints Lord Home Prime Minister; Urged By H. Macmillan

By HAL R. COOPER

LONDON (AP)—Lord Home was named today to be Britain's new prime minister—the man who must try to carry the Conservative party to victory in elections within the next year.

The soft-spoken but incisive foreign secretary, 60, was appointed by Queen Elizabeth II to be her first minister at the urging of retiring Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The choice of the Scottish peer, who advocates a firm but realistic policy toward the Soviet Union, came despite a mid-viet rebellion within the Tory party. A large segment of Macmillan's own Cabinet fought to the last to block Home's appointment and win the post for Deputy Prime Minister Richard A. Butler, now thwarted for the second time. Macmillan edged him out in 1957.

Resentment centered on Macmillan's decision to pass over (Continued On Page 7)

EX-KING OF ITALY VISITS EISENHOWER

King Umberto II, former king of Italy, spent nearly an hour with General Dwight D. Eisenhower this morning in the latter's offices on Carlisle St., renewing an acquaintance that dates to 1943 when the king was commander of the Italian forces under the Allied command in Europe.

The former monarch is on a five-week social tour of the U. S. on behalf of WAIF, international social agency, and the American Committee on Italian Migration. He returned to New York City for a luncheon appointment at 12:30 o'clock with Henry R. Luce, editor of Life and Time.

LONG EXILE

General Eisenhower greeted him in the first-floor reception room, then took the king and his small party to the private office on the second floor. The king was accompanied by Marquis Falcone Lucifero, a member of his staff-in-exile, and the Rev. Caesar Donnanzi, PSSC, executive director of the American Committee on Italian Migration, New York City.

King Umberto has been in exile in Portugal since his overthrow in the election of 1946. This is his first visit to this country and he expressed regrets that he was unable to tour the Gettysburg Battlefield today.

SHOWS HOW TO MAKE XMAS DECORATIONS

The art of converting simple household materials into original Christmas decorations was demonstrated Thursday evening by Mrs. Anne Wertsner Wood, Swarthmore author, lecturer and flower authority, before a crowd of approximately 325 in the Biglerville High School auditorium, where the Biglerville Garden Club members were host to the public.

Using lids from discarded tin cans and cardboard egg cartons, Mrs. Wood developed unusual Christmas bells for home decorations and made Christmas wreaths from nuts, ribbons, candles and fruits.

Recognizing the predominance of apples in the local area, the speaker featured numerous uses for the fresh fruits in Christmas decorations and emphasized the importance of color contrast in her creations. She built a crapple arrangement in a black container, using privet hedge and other bright greens for background material.

Her use of dried materials to provide a dignified religious decoration was demonstrated with a carved wooden madon- (Continued On Page 10)

MRS. KUHN, 59, DIES SUDDENLY IN BIGLERVILLE

Mrs. Muriel M. Kuhn, 59, died suddenly Thursday night at her home on Rice Ave., Biglerville. Dr. C. G. Crist, the Adams County coroner, said the death was caused by a coronary occlusion.

Mrs. Kuhn had been in her usual health when a son, Martin W. Kuhn, Gardner, visited her at 6 o'clock Thursday evening. He then left, planning to return an hour later. When he arrived at his mother's home at 7 o'clock he found her seated on a sofa in the living room. When she failed to note his arrival he went to her and discovered that death had apparently occurred. A physician was called and the coroner summoned.

A native of Adams County, she was a daughter of the late Albert and Myrtle (Wolford) Paxton, and was a member of the Centenary EUB Church, Biglerville, the Women's Society of World Service of that church and the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Offer $5,000 Reward Today For Data On Paxton Slayer

Kermit O. Paxton, husband of the late Rosalie Paxton who was criminally assaulted and murdered a year ago, has increased the reward he offered a year ago to $5,000. At the time of the murder the reward was $1,000.

Announcement of the increased reward was made by Paxton, his attorney, the district attorney and state police Thursday afternoon. Posters announcing the increase are being circulated throughout a wide area. They are printed in English and Spanish.

State police are still at work on the unsolved murder. It remains an open case and the score of troopers who have been running down every clue, regardless of its immediate merit, relentlessly continue their work.

ATTACKED IN HOME

Mrs. Paxton was attacked in her home on the Carlisle Rd., near Aspers, during late morning or midday, Oct. 24, 1962, by an assailant or assailants. She had been stabbed with a butcher knife, pocket knife, screwdriver and scissors. Her body was found late in the afternoon.

Prior to the assault Mrs. Paxton had visited her hairdresser after her two children had left for school.

State police poured into the area and questioned hundreds of men and women. They worked day and night. Scores of clues were run down, all crashing into a dead end. Police in other states joined in the search but to no avail. One year after the murder the case remains unsolved.

An increase in the amount of the reward, it is believed by officials, may bring to light important clues that will result in the apprehension of the person or persons guilty of the crime.

Officials are of the belief that some persons know who committed the crime.

CATHOLICS WILL DONATE TO MISSIONS

Catholic Churches in the 15 Central Pennsylvania counties of the Diocese of Harrisburg will join in the world-wide observance of "Mission Sunday" on Sunday.

In appeals from every pulpit in the diocese Catholics will be asked to "pray and sacrifice for the efforts of 150,000 missionaries throughout the world."

In a pastoral letter read in all churches last Sunday, the Right Reverend Francis A. Kirchner, vicar-general of the diocese, appealed to the people "to give a fair portion of your financial resources to this special collection." At the same time he urged all to "pray ardently for the missions every day and on Mission Sunday, October 20."

DONATE $250.00

The diocesan office of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith which promotes the annual observance reported that over $250,000 was contributed to mission efforts by the various parishes last year. Of this over $50,000 was contributed on Mission Sunday.

The principal works aided by the Society include over 50,000 schools which educate over 6,000,000 children in Africa, the Near and Far East and Oceania. Other works aided include 300 leprosaria, 17,000 orphanages, 350 homes for the destitute and over 3,000 hospitals and dispensaries.

The Reverend Leo A. Beierschmitt, diocesan director of the society, reported that 7,146 American priests, sisters, brothers and lay missionaries are among the 50,000 missionary personnel working in the mission areas of the world. Of these 27 are from Central Pennsylvania.

MOROCCANS CAPTURE 2 OUTPOSTS

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
ALGIERS (AP) — Crack Moroccan troops have recaptured two Sahara Desert outposts but Algeria vowed today that "the fighting is not stopping."

Talks in Marakech, Morocco, brought no cease-fire in the undeclared border war, and the Algerian negotiators flew back to Algiers.

The Algerians claimed Morocco's ultimate objective is the oasis of Tindouf, an important iron mining center in western Algeria. The village of Tindouf, which has a population of about 1,500, is near the borders of Morocco and Mauritania and about 180 miles southwest of the battle zone.

YOUTHFUL PRISONERS

An outnumbered, poorly equipped Algerian force of about 600 retreated Thursday from Hasi Beida and Tindjoub, the outposts 900 miles southwest of Algiers. Apparently they had changed hands several times since fighting broke out Tuesday.

In a palm grove at Hasi Beida, Moroccan Gen. Ben Omar driss told Associated Press correspondent Andrew Borowiec his orders were to hold the two posts.

Driss formerly commanded Moroccan troops in the U.N. Congo operation.

Borowiec said nine Algerians captured at Hasi Beida all were less than 18 years old.

Scheduled recreation visits by the nuclear subs have resulted in mass protest demonstrations, most of them led by Communist and antinuclear groups.

CONTEST FOR 3RD SEAT ON U.N. COUNCIL

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations Assembly elected Bolivia and Ivory Coast today to serve on the security council, but Communist Czechoslovakia and Malaysia were locked in a close contest for a third seat.

Neither Czechoslovakia nor the new Asian nation was able to muster the required two-thirds majority on the first ballot. The 111-nation assembly continued balloting in an effort to break the deadlock.

Western diplomats had predicted in advance that Malaysia would give Czechoslovakia a sound beating, perhaps even in the first ballot. The Communist country, however, polled a surprising 63 votes on the first ballot while Malaysia got 56. Seventy-two are required for election.

Ivory Coast got 92 and Bolivia 86, well over the number needed.

Since 1955 an east European nation has managed to split each two-year term for one council seat with an Asian or West European country because neither side could get the two-thirds vote needed for election to the full term.

This year the Soviet bloc told other delegations an East European nation should be elected for a full term as proof of sincerity of the new East-West thaw.

ALCOHOLISM IS GROUP'S TOPIC

On Thursday afternoon 30 members of the Adams County Mental Health Association assembled in the social rooms of St. James Lutheran Church for a short business meeting and a program on "Alcoholism."

A short film from the Pennsylvania Department of Health on "Alcohol and the Human Body" was shown by the Rev. John Bishop. Dr. Harrison Harbach was introduced by Mrs. Robert Weaver, program chairman. He spoke briefly about the film and its relation to the problem and acted as discussion leader. He pointed out that there has been much research into causes of the disorder and some progress in treatment. Dr. Harbach said alcoholics use this method of reducing tensions because it is easily available, socially acceptable and can be used either as gratification or punishment.

He said the psychological development of personality predisposing the alcoholic to this type of action is related to disturbance of early mother-child relationships out of which emerge lifelong struggles with strong dependency needs which get out of control. He said there are recent studies of metabolic processes which indicate that the possible lack of certain enzymes contribute to the problem. Teen-age drinking is on the increase also, he said.

A member of Alcoholics Anonymous reported on the work of the organization in the surrounding area and told how to get in touch with help through this group.

Lutheran Church Women of St. James Church served refreshments before the meeting. William Phillips, area director for Pennsylvania Mental Health, Inc. was in attendance. Miss Dorothy Curtis, president, announced a trip to Brookline Farms on Oct. 24. Cars will leave the Acme parking lot at 1 p.m. Miss Curtis also announced the November business meeting will be a luncheon meeting at the Lamp Post on November 14. Discussion of the constitution and bylaws is on the agenda.

Tourist Reached Gettysburg Despite Confused Markings Of Famous Route 15 Bypass

A California tourist says he finally has discovered why the South lost the Battle of Gettysburg!

"It was because Jeb Stuart couldn't find his way into town," says James A. Daly, Yucaipa, Calif., who stated he had many of the same problems in trying to visit Gettysburg over the weekend. Daly and his wife have been touring Canada and the eastern seaboard since June and will continue south to Florida before returning to California about January 1.

The Dalys approached Gettysburg on Rt. 15 from Harrisburg and eagerly anticipated imminent sight of the Battle-field, the traveler reported, but after some 30 minutes found themselves in Emmitsburg. Realizing their error, they turned their large trailer around and proceeded in the direction of Gettysburg. This time they were alert — or thought they were — but recognized the Distelfink when they came upon it for the second time in one afternoon. They came into town on the old Rt. 15, only to find themselves at the north end of town, instead of on the edge of the Battle-field, as they had planned.

TRIED HARDER

"We tried harder than most people would have to find Gettysburg," he added, mostly because he wanted to attend a Masonic Lodge meeting in Gettysburg with Ed Stine. He speculated that "probably lots of people can't find the Battle-field."

Daly had a few suggestions to offer the authorities Tuesday afternoon when he stopped at the Travel Council office.

Among them was that the bypass be marked "Bypass" so that unsuspecting motorists will be aware of its purpose.

Spurgeon Keeny With Foundation

His new post is described as similar to the one he vacated. The 70-year-old former Rhodes scholar is now serving on the island of Formosa off the Chinese mainland.

SETTLE SUIT FOR DAMAGES

The Adams County Court has approved settlement for $8,500 of the trespass action brought by Angelita Smith Witter, New Oxford, against Mary L. Scholl, New Oxford R.D.

The suit was based on an auto accident in which Mrs. Witter, at the time a passenger in Miss Scholl's car, was badly injured. The matter had been before the court for settlement about a month ago and was continued then because Dr. Bruce A. Grove, the physician in the case, said there was a possibility of an iritis in connection with an eye injury suffered in the accident.

Since then, according to the order handed down by the court, the physician has made further examination and has found that the condition he noted at the time of the court hearing was not caused by the accident but by a scratch received since then, and that it had healed properly.

Mrs. Witter is a minor and the suit was brought for her by her mother, Mrs. Lillian E. Smith, New Oxford.

The $8,500 is to be divided into $2,197.35 for physicians, nurses, and hospitals involved in the treatment of Mrs. Witter, $50 for Mrs. Lillian Smith, $4,620.77 goes to the guardian of Mrs. Witter for her, and $1,721.80 goes to the attorney in the case, Donald G. Oyler.

GHS STUDENTS

On the senior high majorettes float, wire and paper was used to construct a big statue of a football player in maroon and white uniform, about to kick a football through goal posts. The class of 1966 showed members, in maroon and white clothing, swinging on a child's swing, also decorated with the maroon and white colors.

One float showed an old-fashioned school room, with the students busily engaged in their class work. A student council float showed a caged panther, with one of the students dressed remarkably like a panther.

About 20 cars carried team members and students.

port, the king posed for a photographer with General Eisenhower on the front steps of the office building. In explaining the practice to the king the general quipped:

Scranton Will Accept Draft

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton has indicated he is available as a compromise choice for the Republican presidential nomination in 1964 if the GOP convention becomes deadlocked on other prospects. But the governor told his weekly news conference Thursday that any such offering would have to be "honest and sincere." He said again he would accept a true draft, as opposed to a maneuvered draft, but contended he would try to "discourage" such a movement.

Pressed on the point of how available he would make himself as a convention compromise choice, the governor cut off questions on the point, saying: "I think we're finished with the draft."

ance, and the concert was acclaimed as the "finest in Gettysburg in 40 years." The orchestra members, under the direction of Paul Kuentz, range in age from late teens through the late 20's and are highly accomplished professional musicians.

The program ranged from the traditional chamber music of Bach and Haydn to the modern "Prelude and Fugue for String Orchestra," which was a pleasant transition to 20th century composition. The Rumania Folk Dances of Bartok were light and delightful and were received with enthusiasm.

The orchestra members met this morning with General Eisenhower for a brief visit in his Carlisle St. office building. The violinist speaks English fluently and acted as the interpreter for the group, which spent about 10 minutes with the general.

BRAVES LOSE WILD SCORING GAME 28-19

Unbeaten Waynesboro East Junior High (4-0) downed a hard-fighting Gettysburg Junior High outfit (1-3) in a wild free-scoring game 28-19 Thursday at Waynesboro.

Waynesboro scored early in the opening period when Barry Reid connected with Mat McLaughlin on a 62-yard pass play. Another pass, Jake Sweet to Reid, added the point.

The Braves retaliated with a quarter on a 66-yard pass play to Larry White to Eddie Toddes. They try for the point failed.

BRAVES GET LEAD

Gettysburg went ahead 13-7 in the second period when an intercepted pass was returned to the Waynesboro four from where John Heiser smashed over. Heiser added the point on an end run.

With 1:30 left in the half Eshe regained the lead. Reid and Bill Conrad teamed up on a 47-yard pass play to put the ball on the Braves' six. McLaughlin was spilled for a five-yard loss but on the next play went over from the 11. Rich Rock place-kicked the point to make it 14-13 at halftime.

On the opening play of the second half McGlaughlin recovered an on-side kick on the Gettysburg 41 to open the way for another East score. Reid passed to Gary Armour for a first down on the eight. McGlaughlin went over from there and Rock again kicked the point.

The loss was costly to the Braves, Craig Swinn, end, suffered a knee injury in the first quarter.

Next Thursday afternoon the Braves will wind up their season by meeting Chambersburg Central here.

Score by periods:

East	7	7	7	7

BELVEDERE, Calif. (AP)—Sterling Hayden, a Hollywood actor for 18 of his 48 years, embarking on a new career in writing.

Hayden met with newsmen in Belvedere to discuss his recently published autobiography "Wanderer." He said he was working 12 hours a day, 7 days a week on other projects, including a novel.

"I've always had it in the back of my mind to be a writer," Hayden said, "but I never had the guts to do something original."

MORE NEGRO PERFORMERS IN TV SHOWS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—An interesting addition to television this season handled without emphasis, is the presence of so many Negro performers.

All network programs have been using Negro actors and actresses in increasing numbers during the past couple of seasons, but usually in minor roles—policemen, judges, members of crowds.

Many have noted the change and compared it with the situation of a few seasons back when a series set on the Mississippi River in the Civil War period managed a whole season without showing a single Negro, even in crowd scenes.

One of the funniest Dick Van Dyke shows was an episode involving a suspected baby-switch. A pair of attractive young Negroes were prominent in the proceedings.

IN OTHER SHOWS

"The Defenders," which along with the old "Naked City" series has always used Negro actors, will star actor-playwright Ossie Davis, playing an assistant district attorney in its Nov. 9 episode "East Side, West Side" on Nov. 4 is to tell a tragic love story about a young married couple Negroes, who lose their baby. That series, incidentally, makes frequent, unostentatious use of Negroes.

"The Nurses" has had Negroes playing feature roles, and next Wednesday's "Eleventh Hour" stars Diahann Carroll as

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER
DAY-TO-EVENING HAIRDO.
Hair fashions, now so swingy and casual by day, literally perform a right-about-face after dark. The evening-do is a many splendored thing, designed for romance, dazzle or drama.

The switch is made by brushing the hair up and back to meet a topknot—a postiche, braid, chignon or curl puffs. The sides and back are sleekly drawn; the front is draped or slightly domed. Topknots are positioned toward the back of the head, never forward of the crown. When bangs are a part of the scheme, as they well may be, they form a thick, smooth arch over the forehead with nary a wisp or whisker to break the line.

In fact polish is the crux of evening arrangements. It has thoroughly routed the teased, endy look of past seasons. Best of all, it is now possible to convert from a day to evening coiff in a matter of minutes. What turns the trick is a small hairpiece, a styling hairspray, a box of hairpins in graduated sizes and a few practice sessions. Expertise comes from following these suggestions: Lightly dampen a nurse.

WEEKEND HIGHLIGHTS

Bud Collyer, off CBS' "To Tell The Truth" with a leg ailment, will resume taping shows next week. During his absence, various performers substituted as host. Particularly effective was Orson Bean, whose offbeat sense of humor worked so nicely that he'll moderate next week's daytime shows.

NBC's "Espionage" series, which got off to a rather soggy start, turned up with a good suspenseful show this week and is a series to keep an eye on. Recommended weekend viewing:

Tonight—"Seven Miles of Bad Road," NBC, 8:30-9:30 (Eastern Daylight Time), Bob Hope Theatre drama starring Eleanor Parker, Jeffrey Hunter and Neville Brand.

Sunday—"The Tempest," NBC 6-7:30 p. m., repeat of the Shakespeare adaptation, with Maurice Evans and Richard Burton; "Manhattan Battle-ground," NBC, 10-11—documentary about a social worker in New York's slum area.

INDIANA, Pa. (AP) — Three tractor-trailers collided on Route 422, about eight miles east of Indiana Thursday, killing two persons and injuring two others. Killed in the wreck were two of the drivers, Albert Blackburn, 56, of Altoona, Pa. and Theodore R. Kuhn, 47, of Warren, Ohio.

The third driver, Donald Clar 38, of Scranton, was treated at Indiana Hospital and released. A passenger in his truck, Angelo Quarta, 31, also of Scranton was admitted and listed in satisfactory condition.

Next Latin American Fight May Be Among Castro's Foes

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ
SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—The next flare-up in Latin America may be among Cuban exiles fighting to see who'll lead the war against Fidel Castro.

The reason: Too many chiefs, not enough Indians. This is an impression gathered by this reporter on a four-week, 1,000-mile inquiry into reports of a new military buildup to bring down the Castro regime.

INVITING SITE
There is no firm evidence in support of these reports.

A quick, tempting conclusion is that the biggest "buildup"—all vocal—is in Miami, Fla., among the Flagler street commandos who've been charting Castro's downfall for more than three years.

Central America, however, is a big and inviting site for anti-Castro training bases. Its 174,000 nearly deserted square miles—bigger than California—could provide cover for most of Latin America's armed forces.

And within its five-nation group—Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua, and Costa Rica—are four governments which probably would welcome a chance to provide the launching pad for a new offensive against Castro. Costa Rica is the exception.

CURIOUS ASPECT
A curious aspect of the Central American scene is sharp evidence among most people of more resentment, and even hostility, toward their own governments than toward Castro. This is one of the most backward areas of Latin America.

"What? Somoza helping liberate Cuba?" exclaimed a Nicaraguan doctor wryly. "Why doesn't he liberate his country first?"

The reference was to Luis Somoza, Nicaragua's ex-president and one of two heirs to the Somoza dynasty that has ruled that country 30 years.

Somoza has injected himself into the anti-Castro ranks through a close association with Manuel Artime, political leader of the ill-fated Bay of Pigs invasion.

TRAIN BATTLE GROUPS
Somoza says he is helping Artime and the Miami-based Cuban Liberation Committee rally all exiles behind a single standard to prepare and deliver-with the help of experts—small but effective sabotage and harassment stabs at Castro within Cuba.

The final objective, he says, will be an all-out offensive in November to establish a beachhead and provisional government that would seek quick hemisphere recognition.

The new exile raiders are being trained into tiny battle groups of two or more, according to Somoza. He emphasized training was not being carried out in Nicaragua, but "elsewhere in Latin America and some in the United States without the knowledge of the American government."

SALTSBURG IS PICKED TO WIN SECOND GAME

By DAVE LEHERR

HARRISBURG (AP)—There was new joy in Saltsburg this week, the Mighty Casey (Lytle, that is) finally got his win.

The Saltsburg High School football team snapped its 37-game losing streak last Saturday, upending Laurel Valley 13-6.

The town flipped its lid Saturday night.

The team, still in uniform from hours before, the school band and hundred of townfolk paraded through the streets singing and cheering.

58-GAME STREAK

It was doubly satisfying for Casey Lytle, one of the Trojan co-coaches. You see, Lytle also was the head basketball coach at Saltsburg in the midst of a 58-game losing streak.

The word now is that the Trojans liked winning so much they want to do it some more. Soooo: Saltsburg over Shannock Valley as the Trojans start a winning streak.

OTHER CHOICES

In other eeney meeney, miny moes:

Butler over Aliquippa—The battle that could decide the 963 WPIAL-Class AA championship.

Penn Hills over Johnstown—Penn Hills beat McKeesport 20-19, McKeesport beat Johnstown 50-0.

McKeesport over Monessen—Tiger quarterback Bob Bazylak now has completed 90 of 158 passes for 1,377 yards and 15 touchdowns—all in six games.

Harrisburg Harris over Central Dauphin—18th in a row for the Pioneers, but their toughest battle to date.

PACKS DARK HORSES

Williamsport over Reading—Millionaires continue to challenge Harrisburg Harris domination in Central Penn Conference.

Chief Logan over DuBois—The unbeaten, once tied Mingos were supposed to be rebuilding this year, but they already look rebuilt.

PACKERS MEET CARDINALS IN BIG PRO TILT

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Green Bay's seasoned defending champions and the ambitious St. Louis Cardinals meet Sunday in an important National Football League game that could decide the fate of both clubs.

Since losing their opening game to Chicago, the Packers have rolled to four straight victories on their way to a Nov. 17 rematch with the Bears. The youthful Cardinals, who split two with tough Pittsburgh, are only one game behind unbeaten Cleveland in the Eastern Conference. Wally Lemm's Cards still are smarting from the memory of their 17-0 defeat by Green Bay last year.

The game in St. Louis tops the card for the weekend. The two unbeaten teams, Chicago and Cleveland, are expected to roll along, the Bears at Los Angeles and the Browns at home against Philadelphia. Roman Gabriel gets his shot at quarterback for Los Angeles in the Coliseum against the Minnesota Vikings.

3 REMATCHES

In the American Football League, a Friday night game finds Denver at Boston. On Sunday afternoon there are three more rematches from the program of three weeks ago. San Diego is at Kansas City. Buffalo at Houston and New York at Oakland. In their first meetings, Denver, San Diego, Houston and New York won.

Last week was a little better with the picks except for the Cleveland game, so the season figure now is 31-20-2. If we could only get even in that AFL. Here goes again, all games Sunday unless otherwise noted.

NFL

Butler leads the liberal wing of the Conservative party. His supporters felt he gave the party a more modern image that was needed for the difficult struggle with the resurgent Labor party in the next general election, to be held by the fall of 1964.

Home himself had kept clear of the power struggle over the past few days. Friends said he was reluctant to shed his title in order to take over the government.

But Home was all smiles when he drove to Buckingham Palace to see Queen Elizabeth II. Crowds gathered outside the palace knew at once that the struggle inside the party was over and that Home would become the next prime minister.

"It's Lord Home! It's Lord Home!" came the cry as his car rolled into the palace courtyard. Shortly thereafter came confirmation

Although the selection of Home may leave scars on the Conservative party, Macmillan had chosen a man he could trust in the critical field of foreign affairs—and a man well known to Britain's chief ally, the United States.

Business Session Is Held By Class

The King's Daughters Class Christ met on Wednesday evening at the church when the October business included many items of business. It was decided upon a contribution to be made by the class to the building fund on Rally Day on October 27. There was a discussion on serving a banquet.

Mrs. Erwin A. Rebert, president, who presided, appointed the following nominating committee: Mrs. Irvin C. Markle, Mrs. Orville C. Sentz and Mrs. Kenneth W. Olinger. Preliminary plans were discussed for the annual Christmas banquet and party in December. The following will be in charge of arranging the place and date: Mrs. Paul J. Mummert and Mrs. Clair R. Markle. Mrs. John N. Sell reported for the flower given by Mrs. Harry C. Wildasin, secretary, and Mrs. Clyde L. Sterner, treasurer. The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison.

A program preceded the business and included group singing, accompanied by Mrs. E. A. prayer, Mrs. G. Howard Koons readings of their own choosing by the members. Group games were enjoyed during the social hour, in charge of Mrs. Clair Markle. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Olinger, Mrs. Rebert, Mrs. Sentz and Mrs. Sterner.

The class will meet again on Wednesday, November 20 at the church, when a slate of officers will be presented by the nominating committee. The hostesses will be Mrs. John Sell, Mrs. Roy A. Sterner, Mrs. Delphia J. Sterner and Mrs. Harry Wildasin.

"Trick, Treat" For UNICEF Campaign

The annual trick or treat for UNICEF will be conducted locally on Wednesday, October 30, just prior to the Halloween party for the children of the community, a jointly sponsored affair by the service clubs of the community.

The children of the Fifth and Sixth Grades of the local schools will again be asked to make the solicitation and they will be assigned a territory near their own home. Parents' permission slips will be sent home with the children one day next week and it is asked that these be signed and returned to the school the next day, so that the assignments can be worked out. UNICEF funds provide milk, medicine and equipment to help needy children in more than 100 countries.

Mrs. Paul E. Altoff is local chairman for the UNICEF drive again this year. When she attended the National Council of Catholic Women convention in Detroit, she was privileged to meet with two women, one from America and one from England, who serve with the United Nations and the latter was one who went into the villages of Africa to dispense UNICEF funds. Literature is available giving United Nations statistics if anyone is interested.

Pa. Ban On Hunting And Fishing Effective Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. Scranton's ban on hunting and fishing in Pennsylvania's parched forest and woodlands went into effect at noon today as an emergency measure to help alleviate the danger of forest fires.

The ban will be in effect until further notice. It was another grim aftermath of the state's second straight summer drought.

Meanwhile, more and more communities began turning to emergency water sources to take the place of depleted regular supplies.

19TH RAINLESS DAY

State forest and park lands also have been closed to the public indefinitely.

The Pennsylvania timber industry has urged extreme caution and common sense by the public to meet the crisis.

Emergency measures were ordered put into effect in the wooded areas at the Indian Gap Military Reservation in Lebanon County to prevent the outbreak of any fires that might spread to the ammunition dumps there.

These were just some of the grim developments as Pennsylvania moved into its 19th straight day without rain. The U.S. Weather Bureau at the Harrisburg - York State Airport reports no immediate relief in sight.

Scranton's ban on hunting and fishing was an extension of a proclamation Tuesday prohibiting smoking and camp or rubbish fires in or within 200 feet of any woodland.

Violation of the ban carries a $100 fine.

Scranton said the ban was issued after extensive consultation with Maurice K. Goddard, state secretary of forests and waters; M.J. Golden, Game Commission secretary; and Albert M. Day, Fish Commission secretary.

1ST IN YEARS

Gov. Scranton's ban in Pennsylvania is the first such prohibition here in 11 years.

Former Gov. John S. Fine ordered the forests and woods closed Oct. 30, 1952, because of drought.

Golden and Day said some exceptions to the ban might be considered at a later date, but not now.

More than half of Pennsylvania's total land area is forested totaling some 15 million acres.

Scranton said there are no immediate plans to reschedule the fishing or game seasons.

WAIT FOR RAIN

Directly affected by the ban are the bow-and-arrow season for deer, which was to have ended Oct. 30, and the small game season which was scheduled to begin Nov. 2.

No decision on resumption of the seasons will be made "until we know we are safe," Scranton said. "It is also most important that the people conserve water."

The governor said motorists tossing cigarette or cigar butts from vehicles would be subject to prosecution under the state's litterbug law.

42 NEW FIRES

Fish, game and forest wardens will cooperate in enforcing the proclamation and anti-litterbug law.

Goddard said the ban decision was made on the basis of 42 new fires Wednesday and 35 Tuesday.

"As of Wednesday evening there were an estimated 80 forest fires either uncontrolled or still burning inside the fire lines in Pennsylvania," said Goddard.

He added that the real danger lies in the possible increase in wind velocities.

Will's Stamp Get-Together will meet this evening at 7 o'clock at the home of William H. Rogers, 223 S. Queen St.

SCOUTS TO HIKE

Troop 84 Boy Scouts and their adult leaders will leave from the Community Center at 8 a.m. on Saturday to go to Thurmont, from where they will go on a five-mile hike.

Clove buds are picked when the calyxes turn pink. Then they are separated from the stems and dried on open concrete platforms to seal in the fragrant oil.

Cool the porcelain finished surfaces of your range, after baking, before you clean them. And don't use abrasive cleaners; a damp soapy cloth, rinsing and drying will do the trick.

WILSON HOME NEW SHRINE IN U.S. CAPITAL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Beginning Monday, there'll be another shrine for Washington tourists: Woodrow Wilson's last home.

It's a handsome red brick house of Georgian design at 2340 S Street in northwest Washington. There the World War I President lived from March 4, 1921 when he left the White House until he died Feb. 3, 1924.

It is a memorial to a marriage as well as to a statesman. Among the relics the visitors will see is the high-backed, leather-covered chair used by Wilson at White House Cabinet meetings. On the back is a card in Wilson's handwriting which reads:

"Presented to my dear wife whose inspiration meant so much while I occupied this chair, Woodrow Wilson."

BOUGHT SIGHT UNSEEN

She was Edith Bolling (Galt) Wilson, whose will on her death in 1961 gave the house to the National Trust for Historic Preservation to be a memorial in honor of her husband. The National Trust has now prepared it for the public.

Wilson bought the house sight unseen in 1920 as he was preparing to turn the White House over to Warren G. Harding. He knew Mrs. Wilson wanted it; she had found it while house-hunting. "The one house I felt would qualify in every particular."

Mrs. Wilson wrote in her memoirs 18 years later: "Bless his dear heart! I was overcome."

SOD AND KEY

She also told how, the first day they visited the house together, the President had a Secret Service man scoop up a small piece of sod "which, with a key to one of the doors, my husband presented to me—the sod representing the land, and the key the house."

It was an old Scotch custom, that the Scotch-descended Wilson remembered.

Mrs. Wilson, whom the President married in 1915 after the death of his first wife, described in her memoirs the suffering that Wilson went through after his paralytic stroke in 1919.

She stood guard at the White House between him and all the troubles she could, and some politicians jealously accused her of interfering in matters of state.

STUDIED PAPERS

By her own account: "I studied every paper, sent

Seek New Yorker In Cop's Slaying

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Authorities sought today a 30-year-old New York mechanic with a police record in connection with the fatal shooting of a Delaware state policeman.

Thomas Hoyt Winsett, of Long Beach, N.Y., was named in state and federal warrants as one of two men sought in connection with the slaying Thursday of Trooper Robert A. Paris, 28. Paris and a fellow trooper, Robert J. Forenski, were investigating a series of television set thefts from motels in the area.

Authorities said that fingerprints taken from a bullet-riddled, blood-soaked 1959 Pontiac found abandoned near the scene of the shooting were identified by the FBI Laboratory in Washington as those of Winsett. A 13-state alarm was out for him. Forenski fired four shots at the car as it sped off and one, possibly both men, were believed wounded.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — James A. Farley, a man who should know, says American businessmen should play precinct politics.

Farley, who was President Franklin D. Roosevelt's campaign manager said in a speech at Tampa that businessmen used to get into politics at the working level — "the ward level, the precinct level — and the so-called 'personal sacrifice' of actually seeking office."

This, said Farley, would be much more effective than "making impassioned speeches about 'getting the government out of business'."

from the different secretaries or senators, and tried to digest and present in tabloid form the things that, despite my vigilance, had to go to the President.

"I, myself, never made a single decision regarding the disposition of public affairs. The only decision that was mine was what was important and what was not, and the very important decision of when to present matters to my husband."

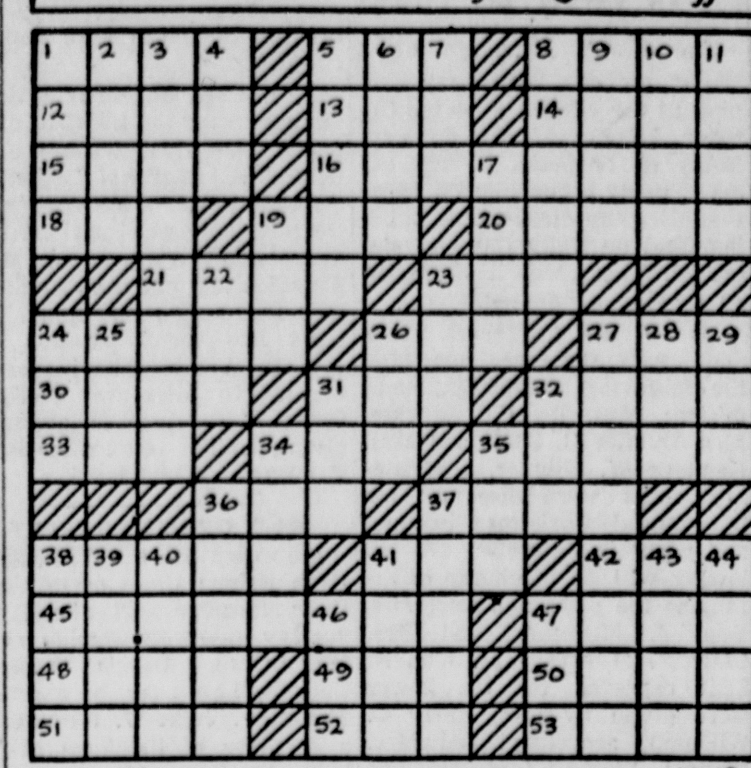

In the pleasant house on S Street there were no great matters of national urgency, but Mrs. Wilson maintained to the end a close watch over her beloved invalid.

One of the memories she treasured over the years was of their arrival in S Street just after Harding had been inaugurated, and the Wilsons' days of glory were over.

A crowd of 20,000 people fill the street in front of their new home, full of affection and warmly cheering.

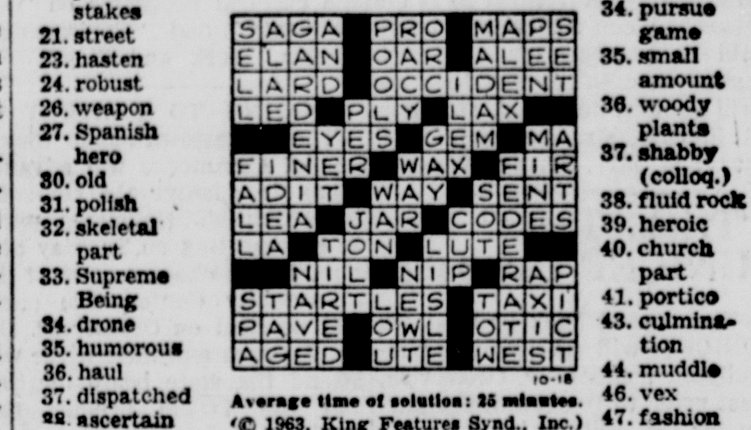

"We almost wept," Mrs. Wilson said.

SOLVES STRAY DOG PROBLEM WITH PELLETS

By BOB WILLIAMS Coatesville Record

COATESVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Louis Close, police chief of West Goshen Twp. in Chester County, believes he has found the answer to the stray dog problem. He shoots the animals on sight. But there's no harm done except to the pocketbook of the owner who has to make a trip to the local Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and pay a fine for the release of his errant pet.

USE TRANQUILIZER GUN

Close and his men use a tranquilizer gun that fires a nicotine laden dart into the sides of the animals. According to Close the nicotine is released when the dart makes contact. It doesn't knock out the dog or even put him to sleep. It just makes him doze enough to sit down about a block away from the point he is hit. From there it's a quick ride to the S.P.C.A. where man's best friend waits for his owner to go his bail. The chief says effect of the nicotine tranquilizer disappears within two hours and the dog returns to normal.

ANSWER TO COMPLAINTS

Close says township officials decided upon use of the tranquilizer gun after being deluged with resident complaints about stray dogs. The weapon is powered by a CO2 cartridge, and looks much like a standard .22 caliber rifle. It is bolt action with an extra size chamber for the cartridge which is good for up to 30 shots. The gun has a range of approximately 30 yards.

Greatest danger, according to the chief, is to the man who fills the darts with nicotine. While harmless to dogs it is deadly to humans.

NO DANGER TO HUMANS

The size of the dose of nicotine used in the dart depends on the size of the dog. Dosages for the various weights are recommended by the manufacturer. Officers keep track of various doses in the darts with a color code applied to the dart feathers. The gun which has about the same sound as an air-powered BB gun is not fired where there's a possibility of a missed shot hitting a human.

Close says there would be no danger if a child picked up a dart that had not hit its mark. "The toxic agent is released on the slightest contact," he says. "By the time a child picked it up it would be harmless."

The chief hasn't escaped the wrath of pet owners. He has been reported to the area Humane Society office. This has resulted in investigations, but West Goshen police are still using the weapon and the stray dog problem in West Goshen Township disappeared.

Ship Capasizes On Trial Run

BEUGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — A ship built for Burma was sent on a trial run Thursday. Speeding down the Danube, it suddenly changed course and capsized, spilling most of the 35 persons aboard. Five were missing and presumed drowned.

Fishermen rescued many in the icy river. Others trapped in the boat were freed by crews who cut through the steel hull. Among the missing was a Khin Maung Nyunt, third secretary of the Burmese Embassy in Belgrade.

TITO PLEASSED WITH WELCOME IN WASHINGTON

By HARRY KELLY WASHINGTON (AP) — Yugoslav President Tito's visit to the capital was short and not all sweet. But his aides say the Communist chief feels he got what he wanted: U.S. recognition of his independence.

"Moscow had acknowledged earlier that there can be shades between white and black, now Washington has followed suit," said a Tito aide.

Tito got the full pomp and ceremony of a visiting head of state, including a handshake from President Kennedy, a 21-gun salute and a volley of criticism from Capitol Hill.

However it may have been the fastest-paced official visit on record.

FRIENDLY TALKS

Both sides agreed, though, that the talks between Kennedy and Tito were friendly and cordial and "characterized by frank discussion."

White House officials said the two principal topics discussed were improved trade and better East-West relations. Tito, informants said, spoke of his unhappiness about Congress' denying his country most favored nation trade privileges. He was assured the administration is trying to do something about it.

When he left to fly back to Williamsburg, Va. where he arrived Wednesday for the start of a 6-day cross-country tour, Tito carried with him a kaleidoscopic impression of Washington as seen in a nonstop motor trip, and a vague promise that Kennedy will visit Yugoslavia some day.

2ND RED HERE

Tito, 71, was the first Communist head of state invited to Washington since Soviet Premier Khrushchev was received by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1959.

In the Senate, Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, said: "I look with sadness on the fact this man is being granted and favored at the White House."

"This is a day of shame for all Americans everywhere," declared Rep. Louis C. Wyman, R-N.H., and Rep. August Johansen, R-Mich., denounced the President for welcoming Tito but not Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, the controversial visitor from South Vietnam.

CALL TOP MAN IN PROBE OF RING DEATH

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore grand jury, investigating the death of boxer Ernie Knox, is expected to hear testimony today from the chairman of the Maryland Athletic Commission.

Also subpoenaed before the panel were the two commission physicians who examined Knox and his Monday night opponent, and the two weigh-in inspectors.

Knox, a 26-year-old Baltimore boxer, was knocked out in the ninth round of a scheduled 10-round heavyweight bout by Wayne Bethea, a 31-year-old former title contender from New York.

Sitting down when he was counted out, Knox toppled over and was unconscious for 10 minutes before being removed from the ring on a stretcher. He was admitted to a hospital, where he went into a coma at 1 a.m. Tuesday and died about 6 a.m. Wednesday of a brain hemorrhage.

WEIGHED 153 POUNDS

There was an immediate outcry in some quarters for the abolition or more stringent controls of boxing. But the death was not considered a matter for the grand jury to investigate until a medical examiner reported Thursday that Knox's body weighed only 153 pounds.

At noon time Monday, Knox weighed in at 178 pounds, as compared with 205 for Bethea. Jack Cohen, executive secretary of the Athletic Commission, and Dr. Charles Tommasello, one of the commission's physicians, both confirmed that Knox weighed 178.

RENAMED AS BAPTIST HEAD

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Rev. John Mueller, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Washington, Pa., has been re-elected president of the Pennsylvania Baptist Convention.

At the same time—Thursday, the 136th annual meeting of the convention chose Bradford as the site for the next meeting and approved resolutions.

Among the resolutions, the convention recommended its churches respect the interpretation of the U. S. Supreme Court ruling that required Bible reading in public schools was unconstitutional.

Other resolutions approved by the more than 450 delegates and visitors urged the churches to: —Find positive solutions to the problems of gambling, the sale of salacious literature and the alcoholic beverage trade.

—Oppose discrimination against any racial, religious, national, minority or majority group, or individuals.

—Become acquainted with the Pennsylvania fair housing employment and education laws and to implement them on the local level.

MISSILE LAUNCHED

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The Air Force says its latest Minuteman intercontinental missile shot was a success.

The launching, conducted Thursday was the 18th from this seaside base. No other details were released.

Apples Fit Family Menus; Most Versatile Of Fruits

By MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON
Extension Home Economist

Anytime is apple time, and apples can fit into family eating plans from early morning until late at night. Apples can count toward the four servings of fruits and vegetables all family members need daily. For eating, out-of-hand or in cooking and baking, apples are high on the list of favorite fruits.

Apples contain very little vitamin A or ascorbic acid (Vitamin C), but they combine well with foods that are rich in these vitamins. A sweet potato and apple casserole is pleasing to the eye and taste. It has enough vitamin A in each serving to supply the daily amount recommended for each family member. Vitamin A prevents night blindness. It also helps keep the lining of the nose, mouth, and throat moist; helps keep throat and skin healthy; and makes hair shiny.

Waldford salad is a zesty complement to many main dishes. Mix orange slices with the chopped apples and you increase ascorbic acid content. Ascorbic acid helps hold the tiny body cells together, keeps gums healthy, and helps the body build resistance to infection.

For tasty nibbling try apple slices treated with lemon juice or acid to prevent darkening. Baked apples are delicious for dessert. Excellent varieties for baking include McIntosh, Cortland, and Jonathan. You'll find many apple recipes in your favorite cookbook.

PREVENT FIRES

Fires in homes most often start in rooms of the greatest activity—the kitchen and the living room. Statistics show 27 per cent start in the kitchen, 27 per cent in the living room, and only 10 per cent in the basement.

Good construction, safe equipment, and careful maintenance can reduce the risk of fire, but no home is fireproof. Human carelessness is the cause of most fires.

Greatest probable cause of living room fires is the smoker. If someone in your house smokes, place several large ashtrays around the house for his use. When emptying ashtrays or putting out cigarettes, always dunk stubs in water, to make sure all fire is out. Never empty ashtrays or put cigarette ashes in a plastic wastebasket. Plastic burns with great speed; metal containers are safer to use.

Another possible fire hazard is the fireplace. An overlapped pull screen or a well-anchored free-standing screen is a must every minute you have a fire in the fireplace. In the kitchen, keep oven and ventilating fan over the range free of greases. When

REPRESENTS BROTHER

Atty. Mahady representing Paul W. Mahady and T. Sydney Hoffman, candidates for Superior Court judge, told the group that the Republicans are dedicated to removing our judges from public elections so that the administration can hand-pick the judiciary from a small group of special friends." He said, "The Democrats are just as dedicated that this will not happen, and that the ordinary citizen will continue to have the right to elect qualified men to the high court."

Minehart, in commenting on the Scranton tax program said, "The most patriotic thing you can do in Pennsylvania today, as the result of Scranton's tax program, is to smoke and drink yourselves to death." He predicted the party workers to "get out and work for this election. For if we lose this one, Scranton will take the credit for the victory."

NEWSMAN IS HOME FROM ALGERIAN WAR

EDITOR'S NOTE — Associated Press correspondent Paul Davis is the first newsman to return from the Algerian-Moroccan border war with an eyewitness account of the desert battle as seen from the Algerian side.

By PAUL DAVIS
HASSI BEIDA, Sahara (delayed) (AP)—The first question you ask here is what is anyone doing in this wasteland. Men are dying for endless miles of barren rock and sand.

Tinfouchy was the rear area command post when I got there. By now it may be the front line. It was still reachable by air on Wednesday if you could find a pilot who didn't mind being shot at while landing on a dirt strip.

STUMBLING OVER BODIES

The fighting was at Hassi Beida. To get there from Tinfouchy, 40 miles away, we left at dusk in two Landrover reconnaissance cars. One carried a heavy machine gun and the second the Algerian field commander, Maj. Zergani, a Berber.

After a four-hour drive we came to a hollow where a water tanker was parked. There is no water to be found in the area. Someone whispered to get down. He said the Moroccans were 400 yards away. Occasional shots rang through the darkness and I stumbled over three bodies near the water tanker.

LOAD OF WOUNDED

Maj. Zergani's plan was to wait until dawn and then creep up the ridge so I could see the positions of the two forces.

But barely an hour after we arrived, Zergani said we had to leave immediately. No dawn glimpse of the battle line. I asked him if I could stay on my own responsibility. "Impossible," he replied. Evidently his position was in serious danger.

Back into the Landrover. But this time is overflowed with 15 men in a space that normally seats six. Most of them seemed to be wounded.

ULTIMATE OBJECTIVE

At first light, it became apparent that most of Zergani's 600 men had pulled back, leaving a skeleton force to hold Hassi Beida.

The men dug trenches and set up mortars around Tinfouchy, old French Foreign Legion post, renamed Fort Loutfi by the Algerians.

If the Moroccans break through at Hassi Beida, their tanks will have open ground on which to attack. If they take Tinfouchy, they cut off the south, Tindouf, and the rich iron mines. This, the Algerians say, ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Claude S. Ramsey, 64, executive editor of the Asheville Citizen-Times, died Thursday in the newsroom where he had directed operations since 1947.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS, Mich. (AP)—S.A. Dodge, 70, a former president of the International Association of Lions Clubs, died Thursday. He retired in 1955 as president and board chairman of Solvent Chemical Products, Inc.

Sermon For The Week

By REV. MARK A. HEINEY
Pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, Two Taverns, and St. Luke's Lutheran Church, White Hall

"BEHIND THE MASK"
Luke 2:2 - "There is nothing covered that shall not be revealed, neither hid, that shall not be known."

During the Halloween season we shall see many people, young and old, dressed in strange costumes with faces masked. The costume is incomplete without the mask. It is the mask in particular which hides the real identity of the individual.

Although this is the only season when we commonly expect people to mask their identity there are other times and ways in which we hide our true selves from those about us.

At times, for instance, some persons hide behind a mask in order not to be a burden to family and friends. These individuals may be in almost constant pain and have suffered hardships. They are content to and hide them from others.

Others behave in an opposite manner. Their individual lives have been marked with shameful actions. Many of these persons wear a cloak of respectability in public to deceive their neighbors or friends.

These are but two of the ways in which men at times live behind a mask. They are indicative of the fact that none of us ever knows another person completely, not even members of our own families.

The Christian, however, is conscious of the fact that, although he may fool others with his mask, he cannot fool God. He is able to see behind the mask. He knows us for what we really are and judges us accordingly. He cannot be fooled by any masquerade of Christian life which doesn't reflect the true personality.

But if we exist behind a mask, so also does God. None of us knows Him completely. None can explain fully why He has done certain things, what He is able to do, what His Kingdom is like, or many other things. This is something that is hidden - but, as Paul said, it shall be revealed.

God has partially unmasked Himself in the person of Jesus Christ. Through a study of the Saviour's life we have come to learn much of His love, mercy, kindness, justice, and the like. We have also come to know His plan for us and for all who believe in Him.

The two ideas, the masking of man and the masking of God, are allied to one another. The one who tries to fool God and man by hiding a life of sin and shame shall never behold the true face of God. But the man who honestly admits his weaknesses before God and is truthful among men, he shall be blessed with the opportunity of seeing God revealed in all His glory.

Don't attempt to push back your weaknesses by hiding behind a mask. Be sincere in your approach to men and to God if you wish that chance to see that glory which is now hid from your eyes.

"Dear God..."

When Grandmother was a girl, prayer was no stranger to her. She learned early to turn her thoughts to God and to ask Him for courage and for guidance.

The country was younger then. Men were still probing physical horizons in search of a better life for their families. Their quest took them to the sea in ships, or along the danger-filled trails to the West. Sometimes the women shared their peril. Other times, they stayed at home and waited, and that was even harder. But whichever their course, they prayed.

Our horizons are different today, and our lives filled with less danger. But we need prayer just as much - if not more - than we did in Grandmother's day.

CATHOLICS ARE URGED TO JOIN CIVIC GROUPS

By BENNET M. BOLTON
VATICAN CITY (AP) — An American prelate told the Vatican Ecumenical Council Thursday it should urge Roman Catholics to "join organizations influencing daily life," including political groups.

Auxiliary Bishop Philip Hannan of Washington, D.C., said Catholics should be encouraged to manifest their faith in domestic, business, social and civic activities.

He was among speakers who addressed the 2,300 council fathers in St. Peter's Basilica during a discussion of a document on the place of the laity within the Roman Catholic Church. Their remarks were reported by council press officers after the closed meeting.

Bishop Hannan was paraphrased as saying:

"It would be advisable for the council to give greater efficacy to its exhortations to the laity. They should be urged in domestic, business, social and civic activities to be witnesses to the faith. They should be encouraged to join organizations influencing daily life—organizations for parents, for schools, for the professions, and not excluding organizations of political activity."

The document on the laity constitutes an entire chapter in the schema, De Ecclesia, a theological examination of the structure of the church. The chapter considers the role of the laity in a general way as "the people of God"—all in the church who are not bishops, or priests. The council will later take up separate schema devoted entirely to the laity in a practical way.

'Latter Rain' Sect Founded By Ex-Atheist

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Sackcloth and ashes figure prominently in the ritual of South Africa's Latter Rain Assemblies.

This religious institution has its headquarters at Jantiel near Benoni, a gold mining town 20 miles east of Johannesburg.

The 200 men and women members at Jantiel live a communal life on 13 acres of land.

They pray at regular intervals throughout the day, kneeling on sackcloth. Praying begins at four in the morning. On special occasions they place a sack covered with ashes over their shoulders. They always take off their shoes before entering the church. They sing and clap hands and pray before each meal.

SEEK SPIRITUAL AID

Every time the community has to make an important decision the members read texts from the Bible to help them make up their minds.

The head of Jantiel is a Mara Fraser, 75, who is said to have had a vision of what God required her to do while traveling on a train. Friends say she was an atheist who was "saved" in 1922. She then joined the Pentecostal movement, but left it to found the Latter Rain Assemblies in 1929.

SEE FEW VISITORS

Few visitors are permitted to see Sister Fraser. The institution's spokesman is its deputy head Brother Martinus Scheepers, who looks like a burly farmer. He enjoys showing visitors around the community's handsome buildings, many of them two-story, and the well-planned orderly gardens filled with flowers.

Most of the church members are Afrikaans-speaking, but there are also Germans and Hollanders. Women members wear blue dresses and blue veils. The men wear khaki clothing. None of them smokes or drinks.

CALL TRUCE IN CHICKEN WAR TARIFF FUSS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and the European Common Market have called a truce in their chicken war which had been shooting holes in hopes for an Atlantic trade partnership.

After 6 months of haggling, the dispute over the market's tariff on poultry was turned over Wednesday to a neutral international panel.

The panel, to be selected by officials of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, will issue an advisory ruling, expected in about three weeks.

Although the decision won't be binding, Christian A. Herter, President Kennedy's special trade representative, indicated at a news conference that the United States would accept a reasonable compromise.

RAISED TARIFF

The chicken battle began when the six-nation Common Market raised its tariffs last year from 5 cents to 13.4 cents a pound on poultry, throttling a thriving American frozen chicken business in West Germany.

Under the agreement reached in Brussels, the panel will decide how much the poultry tariff has damaged U.S. trade. The United States claims $46 million damage; the Common Market contends it is only $19 million.

After the panel hands down its decision, the United States could raise its tariffs an equal amount on imports from the Common Market.

There was a possibility, however, of a reduction in the poultry tariff itself—which is what the United States has been seeking.

FIRE DESTROYS 1,000 ACRES NEAR ALTOONA

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP) — Two large forest fires in the Allegheny Mountains continued to burn Thursday, but both were under control. Several minor blazes also were burning.

Firefighters have had a difficult time with a blaze which broke out Monday in an area near Patton in Cambria County. An estimated 1,000 acres of timberland have been destroyed.

The district forester's office in Johnstown said that although the fire was under control it twice jumped fire lines Wednesday. The area was reported to be extremely smoky.

The other large blaze was on Tussey Mountain in Liberty Twp., Bedford County. There was no estimate on how many acres have been burned over.

However, Mrs. Helen C. Johnston, operator of the tri-county tower on the mountain, estimated Wednesday the fire was 1½ miles long near the top of the mountain.

One of the men battling this blaze was reported missing but officials later indicated he was accounted for.

NEWS for truck owners who need a new one now

Things Chevrolet has developed since the last time you bought to give you more for your money:

Double-wall construction. This feature of Chevrolet cabs and the Fleetside pickup body has two advantages. Insulation and sound-deadening material is sandwiched between the two layers of steel in the cab to give you more comfort; in the body, the lower inner wall acts as a buffer against load damage, preserving the outer appearance of the truck.

Suspension to fit the truck. Conventional half- and three-quarter-ton models have independent front suspension with variable rate coils in the rear. Variable rate coils do not "bottom out" as readily.

Mediums and heavies have I-beam suspension with variable-rate leafsprings. It automatically stiffens as the load increases—and vice versa. It means a smoother, flatter ride regardless of load, a better handling truck.

The right engine. Chevrolet never has been in better position to give you the type and size you need for maximum efficiency. Today there are many different capacities of gasoline and diesel

Chevrolet truck engines—fours, sixes, V8's.

Stronger frames. Every conventional 1964 Chevrolet truck has a ladder-type frame. This type is more resilient, better able to give with the load and terrain. Its simple design also makes it easier to mount special bodies on the truck. Its riveted side rails are stronger.

Greater model selection. This time you're going to find it a simple matter to pick the exact type of Chevrolet truck for the kind of work you do. In delivery trucks, for instance, in addition to regular panels and pickups, we have eleven different sizes of ready-made walk-in vans, some with full-width rear doors.

Quality and value. Chevrolets today are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time, and yet the price tag is just about the same as 5 or 6 years ago. Call your Chevrolet dealer for information or for a demonstration.

FALSE LASHES GIVE ACTRESS CONFIDENCE

NEW YORK (AP) — Paula Prentiss, a tall slim, 25-year-old movie actress whose college once voted her the most beautiful girl on campus, is still a woman who likes a little something extra to boost her confidence.

In Paula's case, it's false eyelashes.

They're no longer than her own lashes, Paula says, but because in combination they're thicker, they look longer.

And they make her feel great. Dick Benjamin, 25-year-old actor and for two years spouse of Paula Prentiss takes the opposing, husbandly view. "I think it's ridiculous to need that confidence. All it means is it takes another half hour for her to get ready. Which is something before marriage I knew nothing about. I've learned an awful lot about that."

FIRST STAGE PRODUCTION

The Benjamins grin and agree that they disagree on a lot of things, are most alert on different time schedules (he in evening; she, early morning) and can "fight about nothing."

However, they do agree about the value and joy of what they did this summer, acting in the Central Park production of "As You Like It."

"In my mind, this is the most ideal thing you can do," says the animated actress, deeply tanned from all-day outdoor rehearsals.

"If I sit down and read Shakespeare, I think 'You couldn't say it better than that. You couldn't say anyone's feelings better than Shakespeare could.'"

ART OF ACTING

"So if you can say the words just the way he meant them, you can do the whole art of acting. Then the audience thinks, 'I know just how you feel.' And that's the height of acting."

"As You Like It," in which Paula played Rosalind, was her first stage production since she signed an exclusive contract with MGM three years ago. After six movie comedies, Paula glorified in the complexities and challenge of a comedy by Shakespeare.

Her first movie, "Where the Boys Are," Paula recalls, was based on funny lines. "If I did the first reading real, that was enough because there was no more in it."

Her yet-to-be released "Man's Favorite Sport?" opposite Rock Hudson, relies more on funny situations.

"But in this play, there is so much, and it compounds itself constantly. Every day of rehearsal you find out more and more."

FROM SAN ANTONIO

Paula says she is not striving to be a comedienne. "I want to do something that is good, that is well written. Whether it's comedy doesn't make any difference. I would like to be a good actress. That's why I came here this summer, to see if I can be."

Dick, whose work has been mostly in TV, says they are staying in New York after the Central Park run. "I want to work here. You can learn a lot for yourself in the theater that can help you a great deal in pictures and TV. A lot of TV parts are cast here. TV directors turn to stage actors to give them 'emotional' parts."

Paula, a native of San Antonio, attended Randolph Macon Women's College (where she was voted most beautiful student) for two years.

SHE'S VOLATILE

She received her degree, attended graduate school and met Dick, a New York native, at Northwestern University.

Her personality is exactly the same now — volatile — as it was then, Dick says. Paula agrees that studying a script is synonymous with "85 days of preparation and screaming and yelling and that kind of stuff." And cooking "needs four days of preparation for whatever it is — hamburgers or something elaborate. Lots of banging of pots and banging of doors."

If she weren't an actress, Paula says, "I'm sure I'd have as many ups and downs. I think life would be chaotic whatever I did."

While in New York the couple at least forestall the kitchen chaos, by hopping on a subway each evening and eating dinner with Dick's mother.

GREAT BATTLEFIELD
Generals have usually been outranked by other generals whom the world has forgotten.

Generals Grant and Sherman were outranked by Lincoln's palace soldier, Major General Halleck; General Robert E. Lee,
by General Samuel Cooper;
John J. Pershing by Peyton C.
March. At least March, as chief of staff, was most emphatic that he outranked Black Jack when the latter returned from his victories in Europe.

Even the Duke of Wellington and the rather bumptious Field Marshal Montgomery received their orders from palace soldiers; the former from the Duke of York and the latter from Field Marshal Sir Alan-brooke.

Both Eisenhower and Douglas MacArthur were outranked by George C. Marshall, though all three were five-star generals at the end of World War II. But already the fame of Marshall is dim compared to the military reputations earned by the other two in the European and Pacific theaters of war.

IN ANOTHER 50 years will
the soldier who commanded MacArthur and Eisenhower be as forgotten as earlier, war-effort desk generals?

The chances are rather strong that he will be: but if so, it will not be the fault of the George C. Marshall Research Foundation. This week the first of a three-volume biography.

"George C. Marshall: Education of a General, 1880-1939," (Viking, $7.50) appeared in all the book stores.

A splendid foreword was contributed by General Omar N.
Bradley. The book was written by Forrest C. Pogue, director of the George C. Marshall Research Center, with the editorial assistance of staff members.

The other two projected volumes are planned to appear at 12 to 18-month intervals from the current publication date.
They will cover the War Years,
1939-45, and his post-war services, 1945-59, respectively.

MARSHALL'S FLAT RE-FUSAL to write his own memoirs has been frequently commented upon. Most of the other palace and desk soldiers mentioned above were not so reticent. In his twilight years, Marshall appears to have changed his mind. He cooperated fully with the Foundation in the mobilization of his papers, private as well as official. Moreover, he dictated recordings of some things as he then remembered them. He also responded to taped interviews.

His biographer has been equally diligent in procuring letters from those who served with him from the Philippines in 1902 until his promotion to chief of staff, U.S. Army, September 1, 1939 the week that Hitler launched World War II
by his invasion of Poland.

No other American or Englishman held a comparably high position throughout the entire period of world strife. Marshall saw others go and others come but he served on and on as a soldier while the shooting was in progress and as a diplomat and cabinet officer in the postwar years.

But the present volume ends
the day Marshall arrived at his first high assignment. Consequently this volume is a commentary on the Old Army,

World War I, the men young Marshall knew, those who knew him and what they thought of
him. There are also the disruptions in family life that occasionally came to every dedicated soldier.

MARSHALL, however, was more than merely dedicated.
He was thoroughly competent,
openly ambitious and enjoyed the advantage of General of the Armies John J. Pershing being ambitious for him.

Their mutual admiration society was created under unusual circumstances. Young Marshall was plans and operations officer on the staff of the
C. G., 1st Division in France.
Pershing was making a most critical inspection of the division as a prelude to a relief of Marshall's commander.

Marshall shocked everyone, including himself and his general, by blowing his top and talking back to Pershing with "a torrent of facts." Instead of the verbal peeling and dark future for Marshall that all expected, Pershing's attitude was one of tell me - some - more.

Within a few months, Marshall was a temporary, full colonel on Black Jack's staff.

Came the post-war peace and Pershing followed Peyton C.
March as chief of staff. Marshall, back to his permanent promotion list rank of major, became Pershing's personal aide.

Members Of Congress May Change Wording Of Their Speeches Before Printing

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lots of people say things they wish they hadn't. Members of Congress have a unique advantage in this situation—they can wave a magic wand and make the words disappear.

The magic wand is their privilege to change the remarks they make on the floor before they are made a part of the Congressional Record.

For example, the other day
Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, was complaining about trips some members like to take at public expense. Gross never goes on these himself.

Rep. Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., upholding the worth of travel,
demanded of Gross:

"JUST SHUT UP"

"If you don't want to go, why don't you just shut up?"

But the next morning when the Congressional Record came out, Cooley had softened his words.

As revised for the record, they read: "It is difficult for me to understand why you continue to complain."

Offhand, it would seem that Congress would want its record to be accurate, to show exactly what took place and what was said. But any feeling along those lines is outweighed by a desire to look as good as possible. And in Congress, as elsewhere, hindsight is 20-20 vision.

The late Sen. Richard L. Neu-berger, D-Ore., who fought the practice, once described one aspect of it this way:

REWRITE SPEECHES
"After a major debate in the Senate over an issue which stirs profound emotions I have seen many senators virtually rewriting the speeches and retorts just delivered on the floor of the Senate."

"Some will totally expunge comments made in the heat of debate that may seem indiscreet or unwise in the cold, gray light

It was a job Marshall knew well. Before the war he had served as aide to Brig. Gen.
Hunter Liggett and to Maj. Gen.
J. Franklin Bell. His reputation for handling a host of details far beyond those normally associated with his rank had made Marshall a marked man before he had ended his 14 years as a lieutenant.

The author shares Pershing's opinion that Marshall should have become a general officer much earlier, but his progress to the stars and chief-of-staff, Dr. Pogue laments, was only after interminable delays, rivalries and involutions of Army politics.

Play the game safe—
be careful with fire!

of the next dawn and in the inflexible type of the Congressional Record."

On the other hand there is the argument, in favor of allowing revisions, that was advanced years ago by Rep. John W. Mc-Cormack, D-Mass., now the speaker of the House:

"Sometimes in running debate, extemporaneous debate in the House and heated argument, I say things sharply that upon reflection I would not have said,
and did not mean."

RARE PRIVILEGE

If he didn't mean them, and they still slipped out, it is understandable why he would want to change the m. But again, this is a privilege not accorded to most citizens in this democracy.

The No. 1 authority on Congress's reluctance to tighten the rules on what is permitted in the Congressional Record is Rep.
Paul C. Jones, D-Mo.

For years, Jones has been promoting a resolution to keep extraneous material out of the record, to have it reflect only what happened.

But Jones can't get the House Administration Committee, which reigns in this field,
to even give him a hearing.

And he's on the committee.

Women Veterinarians Shun Starched Coat, Kitten Talk

NEW YORK (AP) — If your idea of a woman veterinarian is a fluttery lady in a starched white coat who coos to kittycorns to open him mouth for the hicc pill, you should have looked in on the Women's Veterinary Medical Association's annual meeting here the other day.

You'd have found a group of animal doctors as different in each other as only women can be. But they were identical in their scientific approach to their profession. No flutter, no baby talk, no sentimentality. Two of the women renewing old acquaintance let a visitor eavesdrop. They were Dr. Patricia O'Connor, of Staten Island, N. Y., who was in charge of the women's meeting, and Dr. Jane Benson, of Bainbridge, N. Y.

ZOO DOCTOR

A small woman with big blue eyes, Dr. O'Connor has had 20 years of veterinary experience and she's doctor to the Staten Island Zoo. She has three children (ages 19, 20, 22) and a pet dog. On her day off from the zoo she assists her husband, Dr. John Haloran, in his small animal practice in the same hospital his father founded in 1902.

Dr. Benson is a youngish woman with shoulder-length dark hair who shares a veterinary practice (large and small animals) with her husband, Kenneth. They have seven children, ages 7 months to 14 years, and assorted pets.

"Half the women are married to vets, although not necessarily classmates," offers Dr. O'Connor.

"When I'm talking with high school groups about veterinary medicine as a career," says Dr. Benson, "I always say to the girls, 'You're better off marrying a veterinarian.'"

"I think life could get difficult if you weren't married to one. Out of my class, Cornell '47, two of the four women married vets, one is unmarried and one, in charge of a lab, is married to a nonvet."

Since classes average 40 to 50

students, each girl has a heady range of males to look over before deciding on the right one with whom to share future, as well as suture.

More women are going into the field now, points out Dr. O'Connor. "Counting new graduates, there are a total of 370 women veterinarians in the United States and Canada."

In 1941, only about 50 were practicing in the two countries. "It's a good profession for a woman if she's thoroughly interested in it and thoroughly enjoys it," says Dr. Benson. "It's not for the woman who can get emotionally involved in animals. You have to like animals or you wouldn't want to help them, but if you're so sentimental about them you can't stick a needle in one because it will hurt, you have no business considering it as a profession."

Neither, obviously, feels children a professional handicap. In fact youngsters are handy at answering telephones and scrubbing cages.

"Even my 8-year-old," says Dr. Benson, "has developed a professional phone manner."

EMOTIONAL PATIENTS

What kind of patient bothers a vet most?

"The overly emotional ones," says Dr. O'Connor promptly. "But even more are those who neglect their animals so much they should be reported."

She's also bitter about the families who bring in pets—often mothers with litters—to be destroyed at the end of the summer holiday season.

"I used to run into that so much when I worked on Long Island," says Dr. Benson. "The parents would take a pet out to their summer place to amuse the children all summer and then when it killed when they were moving back to town, they still do it."

Dr. Benson goes on: "I won't put to sleep a sound animal for a customer. But I have no qualms about suggesting sending it to an experimental laboratory. There are vets assigned to the laboratories and the animals are well taken care of. Those opposed to experiments on animals, the anti-vivisectionists, act out of good sentiments, but they simply don't understand."

ARCHIVES HOLD MANY FACTS ON TOP ARTISTS

By PHIL THOMAS

DETROIT (AP)—The day after Fort Sumter was bombarded, signaling the start of the Civil War, artist Rubens Peale laconically noted in his diary:

"Saturday, 13 April 1861: N. H. Herald containing the news from Charleston, S. C., the bombardment commenced on Fort Sumter (sic), 29 minutes past 4 o'clock a.m. of yesterday."

Peale's diary is one of more than a million items preserved in the Archives of American Art, a unique institution devoted to "collecting basic source materials of American painters, sculptors and craftsmen."

The definition of purpose is interpreted loosely. For the Archives, with headquarters in the Detroit Institute of the Arts, contain diaries, letters, catalogs, photographs, thousands of frames of microfilm notebooks and many reels of tape on which are recorded the voices of living American artists.

Everything pertaining to American artists, in fact, is pertinent to this storehouse of information, except the actual works of art—and there are photographs of them.

MORSE WAS PAINTER

Samuel F. B. Morse, well known American inventor who died in 1872, was a painter as well as an originator of the telegraph. He is best remembered as an old, heavily bearded man. But scholars who are interested in what Morse looked like as a young, clean-shaven man can go to the Archives to find an early picture of him. In the same file there is a photograph of the living room in his home.

The Archives were born in 1964 because of the difficulty which Edgar P. Richardson, then director of the Detroit Institute of Arts, encountered in his search for the materials needed to complete his book "Painting in America: The Story of 40 Years." Richardson now is director of the Henry F. du Pont Museum at Winterthur, Del.

Richardson and Lawrence Fleischman, businessman and art collector, got together and conceived of the Archives. The first papers for the collection, a letter written by colonial artist Benjamin West, were donated in July 1954. The first money contributions came in September of that year.

No tax monies support the Archives, which survive solely on private contributions and fundraising projects. Among the latter was a heavy machinery auction last October—proceeds from machinery donated by local manufacturers.

FEW KEEP RECORDS

Richardson, whose staff consists of seven persons in Detroit, three in New York City and one each in Washington and Baltimore, says the staff's problems are complicated by the fact that "most artists are unworldly. Very few artists keep records of their lives. Thus, every little scrap is important to us, as we think of the Archives as a sort of time capsule."

William E. Woolfenden, current head of the Archives, says "the time scope of coverage in the Archives is from the landing of the first Europeans to the present. The term 'American' is intended to cover North America through the colonial period; after the American Revolution the scope is confined to the United States."

Garnett McCoy, the organization's archivist, says the biggest project now under way is the acquisition of all American art auction catalogs. He estimated that from the 18th century to the present, between 15,000 and 30,000 such catalogs were issued.

"There is no single collection of these catalogs," McCoy said. "Very few persons save this sort of thing, you know. However, we hope to get them all recorded on microfilm."

NEW FASHIONS NEED JEWELRY ACCESSORIES

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Jubilant at a wake in the jewelry industry, estatic over the death of the nothing dress and its accompanying string of pearls.

Their total disrespect for the demise of this understated, under-decorated shell of a dress in fashion is proper revenge. The style was murder to the costume jewelry business.

Now bauble-makers are buoyant over the boy look, turtle-necks and short sleeves; and the girl look—turban and chemise, both of which must jingle-jangle with bangles for the full effect.

Generally, in terms of the next season's jewelry fashions this means that pins, beads, bracelets and earrings will be larger, brighter, richer more authentic-looking, and noisier.

EARS IN VIEW

Specifically, the new style decrees from the showrooms of the garment district here and in Paris have had this influence on jewelry designs:

Hair styles and hats have brought ears into focus. Hair swept up from the ears, or hair covering turbans are now signals to get rid of small pearl button earrings in exchange for big, bold or platter types for daytime, and long, skinny, shoulder-dangling kinds for night time.

A womanly penchant for manish hats worn back, Balenciaga-style, or coquishly on top the American way, calls for sportive tin, fur or leather earrings to keep femininity frivolously in mind.

NECKS OUT OF SIGHT

Mock turtle necklines on dresses and blouses have inspired jewelry makers to make high-rising, close-neckline beads, sometimes giant-sized single strands, other times in fine multi-stranded chains.

This up-to-chin fashion has resulted in whimsical scatter pins to be worn in clusters at the neckline of the turtle necks.

And speaking of cuffs, the shirtwaist dress, blouse and suit have given rise to a collection of big, bejeweled cufflinks calculated to keep women out of their husbands' supply.

DEAFENING DIN

Indeed, the return of sleeves has not only eliminated goose pimples but has stimulated a new interest in bracelets and rings. Heavy gold chains, tortuous serpent bracelets (the Cleopatra influence) and the woman executive's symbol, the charm bracelet, are all in the fashion picture now. Rings are big, impressive jewels.

Both raised waistline and the dropped skirt—and designers are equally divided between them this season—have created an interest in the cyclops effect in jewelry. That is a big, round, symmetrical pin sometimes with an elaborate drop, worn smack in front and center.

Even a quiet evening at home is out of the question anymore. The elaborate at-home costumes now in style not only require a house full of company to be appreciated, but an ear splitting amount of clanging, banging, tinkling, jangling, rattling earrings, beads and bracelets.

Governor Cites Drop In Jobless

INDIANA, Pa. (AP)—Gov.

Scranton says Pennsylvania's drop in unemployment for the first nine months of this year was the largest for any state for that period of time in modern history.

Speaking Thursday night at the annual $5-a-plate dinner of the Indiana County Republican organization, the governor said the state's unemployment rate dropped from 9.4 per cent in January to 6.1 per cent in September.

A GOOD DEED FOR 2 LADIES PAID OFF WELL

By CARROLL ARIMOND
CHICAGO (AP)—Some theologians hold that good works performed in this life are rewarded in the hereafter. My friend, John McBride, says it is not necessary to wait that long.

One Sunday morning John's wife, Mary, observed, "It is such a nice, pleasant day. Why don't we take those two ladies down the block for a ride in the country?"

"Why?" asked John. He would have liked to spend this Sunday like the one before, curled up with a big, fat Sunday newspaper and a quota of one highball per section.

"Because it would be a nice thing to do," Mary replied.

HUBBY AGREES
John acknowledged he had no argument to match that so he telephoned the two ladies. They would be delighted to go.

For hours they roamed over winding, hilly blacktop roads of southern Wisconsin. One of the ladies observed that it would stay pleasant all day because all the cows were standing up. Mary said she was getting hungry.

"Instead of turning back for home," Mary proposed wouldn't it be fun to go someplace for dinner? Bradford's is just a few miles down the road.

"That would be nice, indeed," the two ladies agreed. John just nodded. He remembered he left home with exactly $15. Bradford's was one of those places described in the tour books with "Dinner from $4.95." No one ever orders the $4.95 dinner.

WOULD ORDER COFFEE
He could, he figured, hold the bill down by ordering only coffee. But how could he signal Mary to keep her from suggesting that the ladies start off with a glass of sherry? Would Mr. Bradford remember him from their last visit? Would Mr. Bradford accept a check?

John's brow moistened as the party studied the menus. One of the ladies settled on broiled lamb chops (2) at $6.50. Her friend said that sounded good to her, too.

Mary said she preferred the roast prime rib of beef with Yorkshire pudding at $7.25.

Belts Will Stay Despite "Shift"

Despite fickle fashion's shift attitude recently, belts are a cinch to be around dresses for a long time, if Norman Norell has anything to do with it.

And the dean of American couturier has, his swingy, belted suit from last season's collection became a national uniform in all price ranges. Almost every suit had to have a belt because his did.

This year, although Norell has created an easy, waistless silhouette with a tier of a skirt, he is still belting his suits, to the delight of the Belt Association.

"Some dresses need belts, others do not. This has always been true," Norell wrote to the association's executive director, Herbert Novick. "Belts are always a part of my collection."

These are comforting words to the industry, whatever Norell does others will follow suit. Thus, while the shift, skimmer, chemise, muumuu, and Lillie, may have their day, the waistline is still here to stay.

LOST LICENSE

NEW YORK (AP) — Broadway's first play from Israel is on the production schedule of Kermit Bloomgarden.

Rights to "The License," by Ephraim Kishon, have been acquired by the Rialto manager, who plans to present it here next season. The comedy, about a girl who can't wed because her parents have lost their marriage license, set a long-run record of 400 performances in Tel Aviv.

John, reasoning it would be senseless to go to jail hungry, took the same.

While they waited for the busboy to bring butter and water, Mr. Bradford entered the dining room.

FINDS BILL
He paused at the McBride table and stood behind John. John wondered if he was one of those sharp businessmen who can see right through a deadbeat. Mr. Bradford bent down and picked something off the floor.

"Young man," he addressed John, "you should be more careful with your money."

Mr. Bradford laid on the table a $20 bill, obviously dropped by a previous diner.

"Girls," John proposed as Mr. Bradford moved to the next table, "would any of you care to start off with a Manhattan or a martini?"

4 slices bread
2 medium tomatoes, sliced
1 cup (1/2 pound) grated cheddar cheese

Life the sardines from the oil and mash with chili sauce, curry powder and onion powder. Toast bread lightly; spread one side of each slice with sardine mixture, making sure edges of bread are covered. Top with tomato slices; sprinkle with cheese. At once stir in vigorously and gradually about one-quarter of the scalded milk; stir back into remaining scalded milk. Cook over simmering (not boiling) water, stirring constantly, just until custard coats a metal spoon. Place over cold water and ice cubes to cool and stir in vanilla; stir occasionally while cooling. Cover and chill. Makes about 3 cups. Serve with cut-up fresh fruit — bananas, oranges and seedless grapes are a good combination. Use 1/4 to 1/2 cup serving of custard sauce to a 1/2 to 3/4 cup serving of the fruit.

Place a stick of carrot and celery in center of each. Roll pinwheel fashion; fasten each with a toothpick or small skewer. In a large skillet, brown meat in the shortening; pour off drippings. Stir in soup until smooth; gradually stir in water. Cover and cook over low heat about 1 hour or until meat is tender, spooning sauce

OFFICIAL SAYS AUTOMATION IS NOT INSOLUBLE

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The president of the nation's largest steel company took issue today with those who point to automation as the leading villain in the unemployment picture.

"I am convinced that automation in itself offers no problems that cannot be solved in the normal operation of our competitive free enterprise economy," said Leslie B. Worthington, president of U.S. Steel Corp.

Worthington was the main speaker in the second day of a two-day conference on business prospects at the University of Pittsburgh.

SEES NEW JOBS

He said he believes that normal economic growth will provide the number of new jobs that will be needed in the United States in the years ahead.

Worthington stated that economic growth is a product of man's creative genius, his willingness and determination to advance. But because of the human factors involved, this growth cannot be plotted on any timetable, he said in a prepared talk.

There are bound to be many advancements in technology, Worthington said, adding:

CONTINUE TO GROW

"I can only believe that we shall continue to progress and grow, and that there will be a continually increasing need for ever more efficient products that we shall need in the future.

"These are the things that will provide the solution to the problem of unemployment — these things, plus the broadening of markets, the widening of demand for our present products.

CLAIM "TRAP" IN FRAUD CASE

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Attorneys for two Fayette County men charged with illegally buying federal food stamps say the defendants were entrapped into the purchase.

The government contends that Walter M. Suba, 41, of Footedal Fayette County, approached Anthony C. Collins, then a state agent, about buying $200,000 worth of stamps at reduced prices.

But Suba, who appeared in U.S. District Court as a witness Thursday, testified that it was just the other way around.

Suba has pleaded no defense to conspiracy charges and his case is awaiting disposition.

He said that after Collins brought up the proposal he introduced Patsy Alexander, 38,

Eggs Must Hold Priority On Daily Good Health Menu

By MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON

Home Economist

Since 1400 B.C. eggs have been eaten by mankind. Yet we are still discovering important nutritional facts about them that rate eggs as one of our best foods. Practically every farmstead and rural village in most parts of the world has its contingent of chickens. Village markets, even in the Orient and in tropical areas, rarely lack eggs.

MRS. TUNISON

Here in our country, hen's eggs are those most commonly eaten by far. But in some countries, plovers' eggs are regarded as a delicacy, while bird, turtle and terrapin eggs are eaten by some races of people. Eggs are such an accepted food with us that we overlook the importance of them in our daily diet. Eggtober, with the theme "Eat More Eggs—A Good Health Habit," is an excellent period to re-examine the place of eggs on our family menu.

With the cooperation of allied industries and the Poultry and Egg National Board, Eggtober Month was started. Its goal was to help poultrymen produce more high quality eggs, at least the equivalent of an extra month of production each year, and to promote greater consumption of eggs by making homemakers more aware of the value of eggs.

EASY TO PREPARE

From an early morning eye-opener to a late-at-night snack, eggs add goodness to eating on each occasion.

In about five minutes eggs can be prepared for breakfast. Scramble an egg in two minutes while the water heats for instant coffee or tea, soft cook an egg in two to four minutes, poach an egg in five minutes, team an egg with a slice of toast, a cup of coffee and a serving of fruit or juice for a tasty, nutritious breakfast low in calories.

More and more busy people are drinking their breakfast. A good meal-in-a-glass can be made by stirring or blending an egg into cold orange juice or milk.

Whether for family breakfast, brunch or lunch, plain or party fare, there are hundreds of ways to serve eggs. These all originate in one of the nine basic methods of cooking eggs: soft or hard cooked in the shell, fried, scrambled, poached, broiled, baked, French and puffy omelets.

The egg is the chief ingredient for a multitude of main dishes for lunch and dinner time eating. Salads become more colorful garnished with hard-cooked eggs. Eggs furnish a beautiful garnish for all cold meat or cold fish plates and for summer salad plates. Eggs add more energy and nutrition to soups, and they enrich all kinds of sauces. Many popular desserts depend upon the egg for their flavorful goodness, and most cakes, cookies and many breads require eggs.

KNITWEAR STANDARDS

Yarns, fabrics, or ready-to-wear labeled Sayelle must meet certain specifications. In knitwear, Sayelle applies under two conditions: (1) When 80 per cent or more of the total fiber content is virgin orlon acrylic fiber and the rest is virgin wool, alpaca, mohair, silk, linen, or nylon; (2) when 50 per cent of the total fiber content is orlon acrylic fiber (bicomponent), formerly orlon Sayelle, and the rest is virgin wool, alpaca, mohair, silk, linen, or nylon.

On October 1 Sayelle became the certification mark for hand-knitting yarns, pile or woven fabrics, and knitwear that contain these specific amounts of orlon acrylic fiber or orlon acrylic fiber (bicomponent).

Your best guide for buying and care of Sayelle yarns and fabrics is the label. In knitwear, a woven label must be sewed into each garment. On socks the label will be printed on a tag and attached to the socks or printed on the sock itself. On yarns the information will go on the band attached to each package.

Garments made from woven or pile fabrics need no label. Fabric weavers and garment manufacturers have to meet requirements set up by the manufacturers of orlon acrylic fiber (bicomponent) or they cannot use the fiber.

NEGRO GIVEN SCHOOL POST IN CALIFORNIA

By LEIF ERICKSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Texas-born Negro who grew from a hard-knocking football lineman into a gentle-mannered schoolmaster has been picked to handle one of San Francisco's toughest school jobs—the new post of human relations officer.

With the rank and $17,400 salary of assistant superintendent, Dr. William L. Cobb is the first administrator in a metropolitan American school system charged with exclusive and specific responsibility for dealing with race and civil rights problems.

PERSONAL PHILOSOPHY

As a football center at Texas College in Tyler, Tex., Cobb was the center choice on a Negro All America picked from Negro college teams in 1934.

Still near his playing weight of 190 pounds, Cobb has shaped a personal philosophy in 24 years of school teaching that is sharply different from his football purpose.

"If you want to get somewhere, don't push somebody else down," Cobb said in talking of the aims of his new assignment in an interview.

"Let's all go there together."

DIDN'T SEEK JOB

Cobb did not seek the job to which he was appointed Sept. 28 by Dr. Harold Spears, San Francisco school superintendent, with unanimous confirmation by the Board of Education.

Cobb was appointed principal of San Francisco's Emerson Elementary School in 1947 as the first Negro public school administrator in Northern California.

Cobb, 52, served 16 years at Emerson, now a predominantly Negro school in the North Fillmore district, a major center of Negro population.

SMILING CLERK GREATER BOON THAN CUT PRICE

By JACK LEFLER

AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—A smiling clerk means more than low prices to a supermarket customer.

That's the conclusion of a study of customer preferences undertaken by Progressive Grocer, a trade publication, and Colonial Stores, Inc., 11th largest U.S. food chain.

Results of the survey of 12,000 shoppers were reported this week to the annual meeting of the National Association of Food Chains in New York.

The average shopper wants to cisco area in World War II as a civilian worker in the Navy's supply organization. He had been a teaching principal for eight years in all-Negro high schools at Kilgore and Hawkins, Tex.

He had earned a master's degree at the University of Southern California in 1940 and his doctorate at the University of California at Berkeley.

The post of human relations officer was authorized following a stormy year during which Negro organizations charged that there was de facto segregation and the citizens committee for neighborhood schools made a countering defense of neighborhood boundaries.

be treated as a human being and selects her store, first, because she likes the personnel and, second, for the wide variety of products and brands it offers, according to the study.

Customers, it was found, no longer tend to shop exclusively in one supermarket, but generally patronize two, three and even more supermarkets.

This shopping constitutes a real competitive problem, and also an opportunity for chain supermarkets in that it gives each store a chance to woo the customers of his competitor.

The best way to woo customers, according to the shoppers interviewed, is through congenial, capable store personnel interested in the common and uncommon needs and preferences of the housewife.

Helpful, friendly store personnel was rated as the No. 1 reason for store loyalty. This was followed by a wide choice of merchandise, meats and produce.

The study showed wide variations in customer purchases by family income. Middle to higher income families spend more for meats, frozen foods, delicacies, baked goods, sauces, light bulbs, paper products, beer and candy in supermarkets. Middle to lower income families spend more for dairy products, baking mixes, cereals, detergents, household supplies, jams and spreads and cigarettes.

Robert W. Mueller, publisher of Progressive Grocer, said the study "tends to confirm our fears that individuality in terms of merchandise is diminished and strongly underlines the importance of the human element, the difference in personnel and their services that customers find so pronounced."

"When customers think highly of personnel, a halo is created that spreads throughout the store and customers tend to see that store as having lower prices, more valuable stamps, tenderer meat, fresher produce and wider aisles."

CERTAINLY SIR

EAST WINDSOR, Conn. (AP) Women teachers got no special consideration at a board of education meeting here recently.

A special committee of the board announced a stringent behavior program for students. Among other things, the committee said: "We believe that pupils should respond with 'Yes, sir,' or 'No, sir,' when addressed by a teacher."

More and more London clubs are admitting female guests into certain areas, usually the dining rooms, of their hushed chambers.
